Premiere: First Jobs Exchange at IPM ESSEN 2014

Essen, December 13, 2013

"Green Careers" - under this motto, a Jobs Exchange for the international horticultural sector will go to the starting line for the first time at IPM ESSEN 2014, at Messe Essen on January 28 - 31, 2014. In Hall 4A, it will offer exhibitors the possibility of advertising job vacancies in their businesses free of charge. Trade visitors will be able to find job vacancies and to place advertisements for jobs wanted. In addition, a small forum will be offered as an information platform.

As from immediately, any interested parties have at their disposal at www.ipm-essen.de a job description form which they can fill in and return to ipm@messe-essen.de. The advertisements will then be published on the "Green Careers Wall". In situ, there will also be the possibility of submitting job advertisements.

About IPM ESSEN

IPM ESSEN is the world's premier horticultural fair. It will take place at Messe Essen for the 32nd time on January 28 - 31, 2014. Over 1,500 exhibitors will present their innovative products and services in the Plants, Technology, Floristry and Garden Features sections to trade visitors from all over the world.
